The intention is to build up core knowledge in a range of areas including marketing, accounting, finance, quantitative techniques, research methods, economics, management, information systems and law; to develop general academic capacity, introduce sociological and ethical issues in business, and prepare for a chosen specialist field of study. The specialist area of study in Marketing runs over the final two years and comprises courses that are designed to develop students' abilities to think and operate strategically within the marketing arena. In the final year, this knowledge is consolidated in the form of the capstone industry project where students operate in a fully authentic setting as professionals on a current marketing issue a partner company is dealing with. The industry project requires the learners to develop solutions towards authentic business needs underpinned by general and specialist theoretical argumentation.

Qualification Aim *	The overall aim of the Bachelor of Business in Marketing is to develop broad-based business graduates with specialist knowledge and skills at the international forefront of marketing practice that meet the requirements of the Bahrain and the wider GCC region. This aim is congruent with the human capital development aspirations outlined in Economic Vision 2030.

In Bahrain the majority of employment opportunities for marketing graduates will come from the private sector, parts of the semi-government sector undergoing transformation as well as SME's and family businesses who are 'corporatising' their business models. A 2014 law change that requires any company with over fifty employees to have a Bahraini HR staff member will create demand for graduates. Dr Jarmo Kotilaine, Bahrain Economic Development Board highlighted the scale of the market in Saudi Arabia and the range of opportunities the Eastern Province offers for graduates willing to move or commute.
